

BA CHRISTIAN THEOLOGY

What are We Talking About?

Faith and commitment, word and action, possibilities and realities, tolerance respect, truth, and wisdom: all these are at the heart of Christian Theology. Engaging yourself with these and other Christian theological and religious values as a part-time or full-time vocational study gives you some insight into humanity's history and experiences and its present state in all its variabilities. The study is the first step in attaining a critical and analytical skill of self-reflection and the understanding of the self as a gateway to understanding and appreciating the 'other' and the society at large. It brings you to the centre stage of the boundary questions of life and hereafter. It paves the way to the encounter with the great mystery of the 'other'. If you are fascinated by all these big ideas, then you are already there with us at the National Open University of Nigeria (NOUN).

Why Christian Theology in the National Open University of Nigeria?

NOUN understands human realities and conditions, the craving and aspirations for self-transcendence, and the spiritual, intellectual, and existential challenges. The fact became obvious when NOUN at its inception approved without hesitation the establishment of a Christian Theology Unit to cater for such human craving.

Christian Theology in NOUN brings you to the ODeL mode of knowledge acquisition that dismantles all forms of natural and human barriers; develops entrants to acquire critical and analytic minds, and helps you to attain intellectual and spiritual maturity through self-development and self-awareness.

Christian Theology in NOUN provides functional, cost-effective, spiritual, theological, ethical, and flexible learning, which adds life-long value to the quality of education for human and societal development.
